

AmeriCorps Service Member Position with TerraCorps & Dennis Conservation Land Trust

TerraCorps cultivates an ecosystem of people and organizations that center community land ownership, access, and stewardship to support a diversity of interests that benefit human health and environmental sustainability. We value the power of local nonprofits to best understand and serve their communities. Our goal is to help them succeed by providing them access to the AmeriCorps national service model to build organizational capacity.

TerraCorps partners with a network of 40+ nonprofits in Massachusetts and Rhode Island focused on community needs related to local land conservation and sustainable agriculture. These partners act as service sites for a new cohort of up to 60 AmeriCorps service members annually. Service members are paired with a site supervisor who provides guidance and mentorship while they learn to manage community programs and projects over an 11-month, 1,700-hour service term.

Dennis Conservation Land Trust is interviewing candidates for a Land Stewardship Coordinator (LSC). The LSC will engage with the Executive Director & Ecologist to manage volunteers on community service projects, educate or train individuals in environmental stewardship or environmentally conscious practices, and complete three capacity building projects. Potential projects include:

- Guide community ("citizen") scientists towards real-world biodiversity conservation action by contributing to the creation of a rare species observation and reporting guide and related analyses to encourage community science efforts across the Cape and across the State.
- Lead the development of a volunteer-led community gardening effort at DCLT's new headquarters, to include vegetables, a native food forest, OR native plants of significance to Indigenous Communities.
- Create a new trail guide for properties throughout the Town of Dennis while leading weekly land stewardship outings and recruiting new volunteers for the ongoing effort.

Applications for this position must be submitted via the TerraCorps online application. The position description for the LSC at Dennis Conservation Land Trust can be found at TerraCorps Available Member Positions.
